(A student has visited his teacher's office.)

Teacher : Thank you for coming to see me in my office today! (1)

Student : I'm interested in going to study abroad somewhere next summer.

T : (2) I think that's a great idea! What country are you thinking of studying in?

S : I'm not sure. I just want to improve my English, but I also want to learn another language.

T : (3) Some countries have two languages – people in Canada can use French too!

S : Really? I didn't know that! But I'm not really interested in learning French.

T : (4) There are many countries there and all of them can use English as well as their own country's language too! They're also very close to each other, so travel is easy.

S : You're right! I've always been interested in Italy and I love Italian food too!

T : And Italy is close to other big countries like Spain, Germany, and the UK!

S : Do you think I can afford to travel all across the continent? (5)

T : There is something called the EuroPass, which makes train travel cheap for students!

S : But even if I'm Japanese, can I buy the pass and get a discount?

T : Of course you can!

S : Maybe I'll go study in Italy then! I can eat fresh pizza every day and learn Italian too!

T : (6)

S : Of course not! I won't forget to bring something back for your help!

T : Enjoy saving up until then!

ア You can do both. No problem.

エ I'm just a student...

イ You want to go overseas?

オ Don't forget a souvenir for me too!

ウ How can I help you today?

カ Then, how about going to Europe?

5. 次の英文を読んで各問いに答えなさい。

In modern society, many people want women and men to be equal. Therefore, some scholars do not want to show differences between men and women. They think that differences can be used as a reason to give women unequal chances. American author Deborah Tannen also wants women and men to be equal, but she says that differences ① (_____).

Different ways of speaking are part of gender. Men and women sometimes have difficulties in their communication with each other. A ② study of communication shows that if a woman tells her husband about a problem, she will expect him to listen and show ③ (_____) to her. So, she may be a little angry when he tells her how to solve the problem. Similarly, a husband may be a little ④ (_____) when his wife tries to stop a stranger on the street and ask him how to get to a park or a restaurant. Unlike his wife, he would rather use a map and find his way by himself.

Language is also part of the different ways that men and women think about friendship. Most American men believe that friendship means doing things together such as camping or playing tennis. Talking is not an important part of friendship for most of them. American women, ⑤ (_____), usually think that their best friend is someone with whom they talk frequently. For women, talking with friends and agreeing with them is very important. Some research has found that women, in contrast to men, often use ⑥ tag questions. For example, a woman might say, "This restaurant is good, isn't it?" By adding a tag question ("isn't it?") to her speech, she is giving other people a chance to agree with her. Unlike most women, men often speak more directly, giving direct English such as "Close the door." Many women, however, use more ⑦ (_____) forms such as "Could you please close the door?"

There are gender differences in ways of speaking, and we need to understand ⑧ them.

(注) scholar 学者, gender 性, similarly 同様に, frequently 頻繁に,
in contrast to ～とは対照的に
